

Olga Witte Organ Trio No 1 + 2 / 19th of December 2021, digital and CD

Olga Witte Organ Trio No 1 + 2 is a grand album with two concerts, which the composer Olga Witte has written for pipe organ, trombones, and saxophones. Organ Trio No 1 is an abstract piece written for pipe organ, which Olga Witte herself serves, and two trombones played by Jens Kristian Bang and Jens Balder. Organ Trio No 2 is a musical tale about a mighty East Javanese witch, Calon Arang written for pipe organ (Olga Witte) and Anja Nedremo on alto saxophone and Jacob Danielsen on tenor saxophone.

The album's basic element is experimental jazz, but in her compositions, Olga has applied structures, principles, and practices from Balinese gamelan, which she has learned and internalized on long-term musicological fieldwork in Bali in the period 2005-2020.

“On the album, I gather several parts of myself: me as a composer, music ethnologist, jazz pianist and church organist. I use my understanding of Balinese gamelan in the compositions, and my background in experimental jazz is clear throughout the album, both in the form of improvisation and sounds outside the instruments' most common use. The horn players are fantastic improvisers who give themselves fully, Jacob, Balder and Jens with a jazz background, while Anja specializes in modern classical music. And then there is the pipe organ. It's wonderful what you can express on that instrument from the mild to the insanely wild.”

The composer's vision is to expand the listener's horizons by leading her/him into a world where the music is inspired by practices of Balinese gamelan. With underlying structures from a music unknown to the listener played on familiar instruments, the music can open the listener's ear to new thoughts and visions.

The music is recorded in Skt. Lukas Kirke, Aarhus, 21 May and 18 August 2021. The album is recorded, mixed, and mastered by Henrik Winther Hansen. It is produced by Olga Witte.
